MURPHY sets are made with the aim in view of giving simple, reliable radio reception as near perfect as possible. The excellent quality of reproduction of these sets is immediately apparent. Many people have said that it is easily the best they have ever heard. But do not be misled by this. There is no such thing as perfect reproduction. Scientifically we are not perfect yet, although for purity of reproduction these are perhaps better than most other sets. Murphy sets are designed specially to keep the upkeep cost on batteries or electricity to an absolute minimum. You should see and hear them for yourself to judge their undoubted value for money.
